CICERO T. SUTTON, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1883.

EX-TREASURER CHURCHILL, of Arkansas, is 233,000,57 behind.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, of Brooklyn, preached at Bowling Green last Sunday.

The libel suit of Mr. and Mrs. Hite for $25,000 against the Courier-Journal resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

The noise of a clock is the tick-dolorous to a man sleepless from neuralgia. (Farm and family rights almost given away.)

A TERRIBLE railroad disaster occurred on the Cincinnati Southern railroad last Friday, caused by a rail being slipped. About sixty persons were injured, three or four fatally.

MADISONVILLE has the smallpox. The disease is almost entirely confined to the negro quarter of the town, but great alarm exists. Precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

A WOMAN was hanged at Windsor, Vt., last Friday last. She was hanged for the murder of her husband's niece, an innocent girl of fifteen. She was the first woman ever hung by the law in Vermont.

C. C. RIEGER, the keeper of Ruffer's famous restaurant, died last week in Louisville. He had been a citizen since 1856, and his name was synonymous with good eating all over the country.

The Hartford HERALD announced Prof. W. B. Hayward a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. He has been a leading educator in that part of the state for a number of years, and is a man of character and qualification. — Kentucky Youtian.

The Houcouille Democrat is for Jones for Governor. Its reason is "because it was for him at first" thus far, the democrat is the only paper we have noticed west of Muldraugh's Hill who favored the aspirations of T. Loveley J.

MCCARTHY'S Paducah, Ky., Journal of April 22d will contain in full the famous Duluth Speech of Hon. J. Proctor Knott, with correct likeness of the speaker. Sent postpaid, to any address on receipt of a three-cent postage stamp. Address "Journal, Paducah, Ky."

AN "OLD FOGY" is contributing a series of well written and exceedingly interesting articles on the history of the great men of our country of other days. The sketches are biographical and interspersed with anecdotes, illustrative of the prominent characteristics of the subject.

MR. WALTER PARKER, of Owensboro, died last week at his home in that city. He was one of the most exemplary young men in Owensboro and his death is lamented by all. Our readers are familiar with him as a member of the firm of Geo. A. Walter Parkers, bookellers.

Gov. BLACKBURN, has peremptorily refused to pardon Ferguson, the defaulting back tax collector of Louisville. We had expected a pardon in this case and in fact had written a squib predicting that state of case. For once we were wrong in attributing a thing to our good Governor.

By a modification of the internal revenue law by the late Congress, farmers are allowed to sell one hundred dollars worth of tobacco of their own raising at retail. Very many farmers will be glad of the change, while it will make no difference to a large portion of them. Very little tobacco will be retailed by the producers.

FRANCE is in a state of great excitement over the arrest of Louise Michel, a female socialist, for robbing a baker's shop. The socialist element have raised the cry for bread which is always the precursor of a revolution in that unstable country and Michel made her break on the shops for the purpose of giving her socialist allies a chance to start the revolution. A very short time will probably witness the downfall of the Republic.

A BOOM is being worked by the Louisville Post for Mayor Jacob, of that city, for Governor of Kentucky. The boom is based on a sentiment, the chief foundation for which is the work the Mayor did for the flood sufferers in Louisville and elsewhere and is inspired by the success of Mayor Cleveland as a candidate for Governor of New York last fall. While we have a warm feeling of admiration for the Louisville entry in the gubernatorial race, we do not think any attention should be paid to the claims of his friends because of the sentiment on which they are based. If we had not had a flood this year, we should have had no Jacob for Governor. He would have been contented with a re-election to the office he now holds and his friends would have thought of and asked nothing better for him. We have had enough of sentiment. Sentiment gave us Blackburn and four years of criminal anarchy in the State. Sentiment has given us many weak officers and placed us in many deplorable conditions and we cry enough. Because a man is alive to the promptings of humanity and goes into the yellow fever district during the plague and saves many lives is no reason to make him the Chief Magistrate. If a chaplain of the army happens to see a poor barefooted soldier suffering from his wounds and takes off his socks and puts them on the feet of the dying man, there is no reason why he should be given the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. Now, we have a man who has only judiciously used the means placed in his hands by others to relieve a number of unfortunate people and up pops a crowd of sentimentalists who stood by and looked on while the work was being done, who want the man their pet sentimentality clings to for a Governor. We would not abridge the Mayor's right to run for Governor if he wants to. He is a freeman and has all the rights of a citizen and the right of any citizen to peacefully to run for office shall never be disputed or abridged. But when such a claim on the support of the citizens of the Commonwealth is made as is made by the originators of the Jacob boom, we are bound to raise our voice against it. Let him come out as a Democrat and as a man and we shall consider him, but as the candidate of a sentimentality for philanthropy exhibited, as we say, when the means were placed in his hands by others and we are not in. None of the three other candidates have any sentimentality in their race and are glad of it. If they have a boom, they are content that it should rest on the solidity of their records as Democrats or their demonstrated value as men, that value being greater or less, of course, and based upon a long life and not on a burst of philanthropy we have described, lasting two weeks or such a matter. Down with sentiment and up with Democracy. To the earth with toadyism; to the sky with truth. The large hearted idea is dead and the era of big brains should open upon us. A soft heart is a good thing for domestic and charitable purposes, but when men worship them outside the bosom of their wives, it is time to call a halt. Vote for principle and not for philanthropy, for head and not for heart, and Kentucky will not be humiliated as she has been for four years past. Please bear in mind, however, that we do not say one word against Mayor Jacob's aspirations. He is as good a Democrat, perhaps, as any of his competitors. He may be as solid a statesman. He might make the best Governor Kentucky ever had. We admit all these possibilities. But we have no sympathy for the sentiment that suggested him as a candidate.

Democratic State Convention.

In answer to many inquiries made of us relative to the county and State conventions ordered by the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee at their meeting in Louisville, January 10, we republish the resolutions passed as follows, viz:

Resolved, That a State Convention is hereby called to meet in the city of Louisville on Wednesday, May 16th, 1883, at 12 M., to nominate a candidate for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Auditor, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Register of the Land Office.

Resolved, That the meetings for the selection of delegates to the State Convention be held on Saturday, the 5th day of May, 1883, at 1 o'clock P. M., or as soon thereafter as practicable on said day, the manner and mode of selecting delegates to be determined by each county and city committee; and should these committees fail to act, then it is ordered that the Democratic voters of each county meet on the same day and hour named, at the court house in their respective counties and there in mass meeting select the delegates.

Resolved, That the ratio of representation for each county, and the Legislative districts of the city of Louisville, shall be one delegate for every 200 votes cast for Hancock and English, and one for each fractional vote of 100 and over; provided, however, that each county shall have at least one vote.

Resolved, That the Democratic papers throughout the State publish these proceedings.

P. B. BAKER, Chairman.
JAS. G. GIVENS, Secretary.

Obituary.

The spring poet is a thing of the past. No more do we see his epitaph while he yet lives, published in the local paper. He of the flowing hair is dead. The writer of verses, whose feet were not mated, has turned his own face skyward and breathed his last lay. Lay him softly to rest beneath the daisies he loved so much. Breathe gently for fear you wake the poor sleeping thing. Discuss not his short comings. The publisher was wont to cuss his short meter, but let us not think of him as short now. There was nothing short about him but his name, his fame and his general reputation. Those three items don't amount to much and we have no doubt his tombstone can lie as gracefully as any other in the yard. It will be standing. Tombstones are all standing lies. They stand about a man's standing, but stand about his lying. The spring poet was a liar. So was his lyre. He would sing to you of "soft, sweet, balmy, gentle spring" and beguile you into taking off your winter undershirt. The next day you would have a fearful cold and a regret that the poet was still at large. The deeper the cold the larger the regret and the stronger determination to strike the liar. You have no desire to strike the lyre, as your aspirations are higher, but you would be glad to take some fire and light his funeral pyre. We have patiently stood the spring poet for several seasons. He has also stood us—"stood us off" several times. In a few seasons another spring poet will grow up and we will cause him to subside as we did the last one who appeared on the threshold of our den.

Small-Pox Law.

During the presence of small-pox in the county we would call the attention of the authorities and citizens to the small-pox law in the General Statutes: CHAPTER 102.

ARTICLE II.

§ 1. All persons of the age of twenty-one years and over, who have not been vaccinated, or, if vaccinated, not successfully, shall, within three months after this revision takes effect, procure their own vaccination or re-vaccination as the case may be.

§ 2. All parents, guardians, and other persons having the care, custody, or control of any child or children, or who may have in their employ any minor or minors, shall have the same vaccinated; and every parent, guardian, and person that may have the care, custody, or control of any child born hereafter, shall have said child vaccinated within twelve months after its birth or after it comes under his or her care, custody, or control.

§ 3. All persons coming into this State to reside or become citizens, who have not been vaccinated, or who may have children under their care or control that have not been vaccinated, shall procure the vaccination of themselves and said children within six months after coming into the State.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the justice of the peace in each district to give some practicing physician written authority to vaccinate all persons in the district who are unable to procure vaccination; and said physician shall furnish to one of the justices giving him said authority a true list, under oath, of the persons vaccinated by him, with his charges, which shall be fifty cents for each successful vaccination, and twenty-five cents for each mile necessarily traveled in going from and to his home to perform said vaccination. And the justice shall report the same to the court of claims for his county, and said court shall order said charges to be paid out of the county levy.

§ 5. The city council of every city, and the board of trustees of every town, in the State, are invested with full power and authority, and are required, to make such ordinances, rules and regulations, with fines and penalties attached, as will secure the vaccination of all the inhabitants of said cities and towns, and provide the necessary means to pay for the vaccination of all paupers and destitute persons in the same.

§ 6. The superintendents of the charitable institutions of the State shall have all the inmates of said institutions vaccinated. The keeper of the penitentiary shall have all the convicts in same vaccinated.

§ 7. All vaccinations performed under this article shall be with pure vaccine matter.

§ 8. Each of the persons mentioned in the first and third sections of this article, and each of the parents, guardians, and persons mentioned in the second section, for every failure or refusal to comply with the requirements imposed on them by the respective sections, shall be fined not less than five nor more than twenty dollars for each failure or refusal. Each member of a city council or of a board of trustees of a town, and every physician, superintendent of a charitable institution, and keeper of the penitentiary, for every failure or refusal to perform the duties required of him by this article, shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars.

The Text Book Evil.

Some time since we had occasion to refer to the text book evil, and spoke of it as being a most serious draw back to our school system. We are now more than ever convinced of the correctness of our position, and can see more plainly that the evil is of no less importance than the inadequate and mismanaged fund.

Perhaps you do not think it amounts to so much after all. Look for a moment and you will see. What does your child's books cost you? In the common school branches we have a Spelling book.....$0.20
Reader (average cost).....1.00
Arithmetic.....1.00
Grammar.....1.00
History.....2.00

Total.....$5.20

This is a very low average, but there is nothing like getting figures low enough. A young man told us this week that the text books under his arm cost him $20.00, and that the books studied in the primary departments cost from $4.00 to $7.00 for each pupil. Think of this, and when you hear in mind the number of children in your county or State, and what an enormous amount the aggregate must be. This would not be so bad if the mere cost of one lot of books were all the parent had to stand in sending his child to school. He will pay a considerable sum for books this year and next year he will be forced, by the whim of a teacher or contrivance of a trustee, to buy new books, when the old ones are just as good, and already paid for.

This thing goes on year after year, and by the time the average poor man gets his child educated he has spent a very considerable sum for text books, the price of which has been about double what it would have been for the monopoly existing in the school books. Aside from the expense, another very serious evil is that which results from lack of uniformity of books in a school. There is not a school district in this county where a perfect uniformity has been secured, nor will there ever be under the present system. No one need be told of the evil results to a school where such a mongrel lot of text books are used. Think of a teacher having three or four classes of the same grade in different text books, and you can form some idea of the immense amount of work entailed on the teacher. In our experience in the school-room we experienced more vexation and genuine trouble from this than from all other sources combined. The present plan is expensive, troublesome and unjustifiable. It cannot work to the benefit of any one except the book makers, and it is even a questionable benefit to them. A change would be better for all, and we are heartily in for it.

How would we secure a perfect uniformity, and how could we get the books at a minimum cost? Perfect uniformity over all the State would produce a monopoly, and monopolies were never known to cheapen anything. But by the system we propose the exclusive right to furnish text books to the State would not be a monopoly in the common acceptance of that term. There are a number of series of text books published by various reliable firms, any single series of which is good enough for all the demands of our schools. Let the Legislature pass an act to secure uniformity of text books in all the common schools of the State. Then a committee of educators should be appointed, say of three members, to select books for the schools. From the catalogues of the best publishing houses they should select at least twice as many firms as there are committees. These firms should then be notified that the State would receive bids for books to be furnished to the common schools. Specifications as to workmanship should be made out and principles and the lowest bid accepted with ample guaranty that all the conditions of the contract should be fulfilled. After the books were ready notice could be given to every district in the State that they were ready for distribution, and the trustees should be required to see that all children of pupil age who attend school are supplied with books of the required kind. There would be no hardship to parents in this, for they would have the assurance of getting books at about fifty per cent. of their present cost and also that they would not be required or allowed to change within five years or whatever other term the Legislature saw fit to fix.

We believe this system as here outlined would prove all that could be wished and would secure results to be attained in no other way. It is at least worth a trial, and we commend the plan or some other to the attention of our candidates for the Legislature.

Central City Items.

April fool, or at least the time for that distinguished personage to put in an appearance, has come and past, but the gentleman himself has not been seen. The same old fools that were here in March will remain awhile longer.

News is extremely scarce. Small-pox is the subject for discussion now. A great many argue that there is no danger in it, and at the same time are more frightened than those who say but little about it. At this time there is none in the place, and most all are being vaccinated.

Our town is coming to the front. We now have a flourishing Sabbath-school and would be pleased to have you folks attend. The general business of the town is better than it has been for some weeks past. The yard master reports railroad business as having picked up considerably in the last few days. We have a new millinery store in our town, conducted by two energetic ladies. I have not had the pleasure of meeting them yet, but think I will soon, don't you reckon so? We the boys are always ready to extend a hand of welcome to all who wish to cast their lot in our midst, and when we find there are some young ladies in the family we can hardly stop at extending the welcome greeting.

It has ever been a matter of unaccountable wonder that some enterprise in the way of machine shops, mills or some manufacturing establishment of some description has not been built at this point. With the advantage of the two railroads for shipping and the plentifulness of timber and coal for material and fuel, this point stands without a rival.

The society which a few years ago must have been extremely rough has received addition to addition until now we can boast of a tolerably respectable society.

We are informed that our old friend Weller is the father of a fine boy. Allow me to congratulate you, Bro. Henry, for the boy is unquestionably an elegant gentleman, and will, doubtless, be an interesting member at night of the family.

A new agent at the C. O. & S. W. office.

Misses Jarboe and Alexander visited Mr. Kittling of this place, recently. Their stay was short, but pleasant, to our boys at least, and they are sadly grieved because the girls do not come often. Don't think myself that Miss Nannie is as fond of her aunt as she should be. Come again, come soon, come often, we are always glad to see any of the Hartford girls; yes, and boys, too.

Mrs. J. R. Collins is visiting her mother in your town. We anxiously await her return; in our family circle there is a missing link without her.

John R. Collins left for Hartford Saturday and returned Sunday. He reports everything in a flourishing condition.

The boys in South Carrollton are getting a little tired of the Central City boys continually destroying their happiness on Sunday evenings, and as a remedy for the evil, we are informed that on a recent Sunday the boys of said town formed a coalition and engaged every buggy and every girl's company in the place. It was an excellent thing for the girls but not so fine for the burg men, as I have investigated the matter, and only one of our boys thought of going down there on that particular day. Now, it is wrong for the S. C. boys to treat the C. C. boys in such style as this. We can never entertain such an unkind feeling towards them. Come out and see us, boys; call on our young ladies every Sunday if you like and they are willing to see you at any and all times. There is nothing small or selfish about these Central City boys.

The Democrats of the county held a primary election on Saturday last and elected Mr. R. Y. Thomas as their candidate for Representative from this county. Mr. Thomas is the editor of the Edwa. and is an intelligent, promising young man.

I have turned out my mustache. Will come over and let you see them as soon as they are visible. They are jet black, something like Proctor Knott's.

I am glad to hear of the marriage of the young editor and Miss Etta Montague. They are my old acquaintances, and two of my best friends. They are indeed happily married. Miss Etta is a dignified, affectionate, true lady. She is a model of perfection, while Mr. Sutton is no less a gentleman. The wedding must have been an enjoyable affair, and an only too sorry that sickness, together with pressing business, prevented my being present. In them Hartford has gained an indispensable addition in both the business and social circle. With kindest wishes for their peace and happiness through life, I remain sincerely theirs.

Greenback Convention.

April 24, 1883.

The convention having met and called to order, proceeded to elect a Chairman.

G. J. Bean was elected and proceeded to appoint a Committee on Resolutions, consisting of F. W. Pirtle, Remus Carter and H. L. Thomas.

A Committee of three was then appointed in each voting precinct, composed of the following named gentlemen:

Barford, George Riley, John McCormack and Peter Smith; Bartlett, to be supplied; Hartford, Chapman Crow, F. W. Pirtle and G. J. Bean; Beaver Dam, Sam Paxton, Remus Carter, James Chick; Cromwell, Walker M. Stevens, J. P. Morton, J. C. Westbrook; Stewart, Dr. Whittinghill, Gravitill Stewart; Rodine, J. W. Cox, Elie Crow, Tom Doherty; Sulphur Springs, H. L. Thomas, W. S. Cole, Thomas F. Johnson; Fordville, W. Carter, James Chick; Simpson, Galloway; Centown, W. T. Adkins, John Lindley, J. B. Brown; Rockport, John Bender, Lebbe F. Fulkerson; Cool Springs, Levi Wilson.

The Committee then came in and made their report which was received and the Committee discharged.

We, the Committee, endorse the call for a Greenback Convention to recommend a suitable man to represent us in the Lower House of the General Assembly of Kentucky and we do recommend Hon. A. B. Baird as a suitable man to represent us in the same, regardless of politics, who will represent the people as a mass and not as a politician.

F. W. Pirtle, Committee.
Remus Carter, J.

Judge A. B. Baird was then put in nomination for representative of Ohio county in the Lower House of the next General Assembly. After some debate, a vote was taken in which Baird was beaten by a very small majority and a motion was then made to adjourn for one month without making any nomination.

Considerable debate was then indulged in, upon which the motion was withdrawn.

F. W. Pirtle, Wesley Crow and J. D. Byers were nominated, who were present and declined to allow their names to go before the Convention. R. H. Stevens was then put in nomination, which was made unanimously. The Convention then adjourned with a request from the Chairman to meet at the court house in Hartford on the first Monday in May next.

Adjourned sine die.

G. J. Bean, Chairman.

Thos. F. Johnson, Acting Sec.

The Educational Convention.

Meets in the Court House and Accomplishes the Objects for Which it was Called.

Pursuant to a call issued by Frank L. Felix, Common School Commissioner, for an Educational Convention to be held in this place on the 24th inst., to select delegates to the State Educational Convention at Frankfort and to pass resolutions outlining the sense of the common school system of the State, the teachers, trustees and patrons of the common school of Ohio county, met in the court house at 2:30 o'clock Monday. After the object of the meeting had been stated, Frank L. Felix was called to the chair and C. T. Sutton appointed Secretary.

The Chair then appointed A. B. Baird, John O'Flaherty, J. S. Glenn, D. M. Hocker and L. P. Loney a committee to draft resolutions. The committee retired and after returning reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

We, the Committee appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiment of this Convention, regarding the condition to be held at Frankfort on the 30th inst., beg leave to submit the following Resolutions:

1. We heartily endorse the call for a State Convention at Frankfort to consider the propriety of improving the status of the Public School System of Kentucky.

2. That the school fund is now too greatly inadequate to meet the original purposes for which it was intended and that we endorse any laudable method by which the same may be augmented.

3. That we recommend that the utmost economy possible be practiced in the disbursement of the public money, in order that the largest possible amount may reach the original object for which the said fund was created, viz: the education of the children.

4. That the standard of qualification of common school teachers be raised in order to acquire a certificate.

5. That this Convention appoint a delegate to represent Ohio county in the Frankfort Convention.

6. That the Hartford HERALD and other papers friendly to the cause of education, be requested to publish the proceedings of this convention.

J. S. O'FLAHERTY
D. M. HOCKER
J. S. GLENN
L. P. LONEY
Committee.

In the absence of the Committee, telling remarks were made by various friends of education and the interest manifested showed that every man in the house had the cause at heart.

After the adoption of the resolutions the selection of delegates to represent Ohio county in the State Educational Convention at Frankfort on the 30th inst., was declared in order. Judge A. B. Baird temporarily assumed the chair and Frank L. Felix was selected as a delegate with Prof. W. B. Hayward as alternate. Prof. Hayward said that his private personal interest forbade his attendance, but that he would submit to the Convention. A vote was taken and the unanimous voice was that he should go.

Capt. J. R. Hindman, of Adair county, a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was on the floor and in response to a call, made a very stirring speech, touching educational and political points. He paid a beautiful tribute to Ohio county for a support of the gallant old Col. Woodford in his race for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. His remarks were heartily applauded and at the close, no further business being before the Convention, it was declared adjourned sine die.

FRANK L. FELIX, Chairman.

C. T. SUTTON, Sec'y.

Etanville Hatch.

March 29th, 1883.

Etanville has a tobacco factory and a new store, occupied by Messrs. Clements & Philpott. We also have a blacksmith shop.

We are without mail facilities though we will probably get a line soon.

Wm. White and J. H. Black have opened a coalbank on the farm of J. H. Loyd.

Dr. Hick Black has located near us with a view of practicing medicine. He is quite a promising physician.

In a former communication from this place there were several errors. I will. The first named 200 calls for Ben Miller and Henry Hocker. Second—You made Ellis Chapman's name read Alex Chapman. In future communications you will please spell correctly: A-B-C does not spell Ellis, Ed.

Third—You made T. P. Faught read R. L. Faught. It is difficult to decipher your manuscript, therefore you should pardon us for such small errors. Ed.

J. H. Ferguson is very ill at this writing.

Great preparations are being made for a large crop of tobacco in this section.

When never did look so sad in this vicinity as at present.

Farmers are somewhat earlier plowing for corn this year than common.

The school at Bar run has commenced under the supervision of Miss Mattie Turner. She is quite young, but an accomplished teacher and has won the respect of all the patrons wherever she has taught.

There have been two efforts to start a school at Green River this spring, but both have failed. It looks like the patrons should take more interest in sending their children to spring schools.

Owing to the cool weather, there has been very little gardening done yet.

M. N. Shultz bought a last year for $500 and sold it recently for $600.

G. W. Gordon, our tobacco merchant, has shipped but little tobacco as yet.

GRAND OPENING WEEK!

ANDERSON'S BAZAR!

Never before has this Popular House been so well prepared to please its customers in Prices and Styles as it is this Season

DRESS GOODS Were Never so Lovely,
Shoes were NEVER so Cheap,
Clothing was NEVER so NOBBY!

And bargains in all lines have never been so great. The prices in many lines of goods being but half as much as that asked in former seasons. Don't fool your money away on high priced goods. Remember, that it is easier to make five or ten dollars by bringing your family to Hartford to buy their Spring bill than it is to make two dollars at hard work at home. In these times of scarcity every discreet person will make their money go as far as possible. A small amount will buy a large large bill of goods at present Bazaar prices. Remember, you get later styles in all kinds of Ladies' wear at this house than you can any where else in this country. Next week we propose to give a list of prices on several lines of goods that will make people open their eyes. Call and look whether you wish to buy or not.

PERSONALS.

Persons in town having visitors or any other item they would like in this column would confer a favor if they would inform this office. The town is not very large, but one hand can't get all over it every day and run a newspaper.

Mr. R. C. Nall, of Owensboro, was in town several days last week visiting friends.

Prof. and Mrs. Alexander went to Central City last Saturday, and returned Sunday.

Mrs. A. Duncan, of McHenry, is visiting her daughters, Misses Nettie and Nellie, who are attending College.

Capt. J. R. Hindman, of Adair county, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was in town this week. Our people were very favorably impressed with his appearance, affability etc.

Capt. Sam Hill, of Owensboro, came over Sunday to visit his family and attend some legal business.

Mrs. Maggie Dean, left Monday for her home in South Carrollton, after a visit of two weeks in this place.

Mr. C. W. Slack, of Owensboro, was here the week in the interest of the Southern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Dr. J. E. Haynes, formerly of this place, and Mr. Landrum, of Falls of Rough, were in town last week. Dr. H. is teaching and practicing in Calhoun at present.

Jas. Cate, Esq., of Henderson woolen mills, was in town last week. His goods are known all over the country as the very best, and we hope he will build up a good trade in this section.

Dr. John C. Hoover who has very recently graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago, was in to see us Monday. He has obtained his sheepskin and will probably hang a shingle in Glenview, McLean county. We wish him all the success in the world.

—Vaccinate yourself.
—Read the vaccination law.

—Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.
—Mrs. Reuben Gross and child, near Magan, have small-pox.

—Born—Sunday, April 1st, 1883, to the wife of Kit Carson, near town, a boy.

—For pure, straight, unadulterated whiskey, brandies and wine, call at "The Office."

—The largest assortment of fishing tackle, guns, pistols and sporting goods ever seen in Hartford is now at Williams Bros.

—Persons having business in Hartford need not be kept away by any fear of smallpox. There is not a case in ten miles of the place and we now have no fear of its reaching Hartford anytime.

—Better clothes you never wore, Than those you find at Gilstrap's store.

—Cut and made in nobby style, And cheap enough—we'll we should smile.

Exchange Emporium, Cromwell, Ky.

—Judge James Tinsley, of Rockport, an account of whose illness from small-pox appeared last week, died last Thursday morning. As yet, we have heard of no new cases, and it is thought there is little danger of any further spread. As at present advised, there is but one case now in the county. That of young Frank Kirtley who contracted it at Evansville.

—Considerable excitement prevails in Point Pleasant neighborhood on account of small pox. Frank Kirtley, of that neighborhood, contracted the disease in Evansville and came up on the Bowling Green to Point Pleasant and went into a store there and staid a couple hours with considerable fever. From there he went to Mr. G. W. Barnards and lay on a bed there and went home and broke out with the disease.

—Brogan shoes, of any size, Boots, both cheap and fine, Ladies' shoes, we advertise, And children's shoes, a handsome line, At Gilstrap's Exchange Emporium, Cromwell, Ky.

—Mr. F. W. Pirtle has left a specimen of stock corn with us. He says that he shelled seventy-two ears and the corn weighed 62 pounds. This is the best yield we have ever heard of, as the corn was not selected for size. Mr. Pirtle has a large quantity for sale and farmers would do well to try it.

—Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

—Mr. Chapman Crow, has removed his saddlery shop to his residence.

—Although Monday was a very disagreeable day, there were a goodly number of the yeomanry at County Court.

—Dr. W. P. Bennett, filled his regular appointment here Sunday last. At night he preached to a very large audience.

—It is better to remove than to hide complexional blemishes. Use Glenn's Sulphur Soap, not cosmetics. Sold by druggists.

—Dr. W. B. Armendt will be at the Hartford House on April 10th prepared to do all kinds of dental work. Will remain out a few days. Call on him early.

—The town trustees should take proper steps in case of any threatening of an outbreak of smallpox amongst us. See the law on this subject in this paper.

—A bogus smallpox remedy is going the round of the papers. It is sulphate of zinc sugar and water. Somebody will lose his life trying the remedy and will find out when too late that it is not good.

—Rev. G. J. Bean, was called to preach a funeral last Sunday and consequently could not fill his appointment at Cromwell. Rev. Lewis Voyles was expected to supply his place Sunday night.

—The best assorted stock of goods at lowest price at Henry Small's.

—The post office at this place was closed until 5 o'clock last Wednesday, out of respect to Postmaster-General Timothy O'Howe whose funeral occurred on that day. The closing was the result of a general order to all the post office in the United States.

—Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

—A pure, radiant complexion is one of woman's greatest charms. It is attainable by the daily use of Glenn's Sulphur Soap, which removes blemishes of the skin, cuticular ailments of every description, and is an admirable disinfectant.

—Mr. F. W. Pirtle has left a specimen of stock corn with us. He says that he shelled seventy-two ears and the corn weighed 62 pounds. This is the best yield we have ever heard of, as the corn was not selected for size. Mr. Pirtle has a large quantity for sale and farmers would do well to try it.

—Brogan shoes, of any size, Boots, both cheap and fine, Ladies' shoes, we advertise, And children's shoes, a handsome line, At Gilstrap's Exchange Emporium, Cromwell, Ky.

—Remember the Hartford Water Mills are now in first class condition and prepared to do work in the best of order and with dispatch. We still grind for one-eighth toll in both wheat and corn. Grinding every day in the week except Saturday which is sharpening day. Flour, meal and bran constantly on hand at lowest prices. Will be prepared to card wool at opening of carding season. We are thankful for past favors and solicit a continuance of patronage, believing we can give perfect satisfaction. Respectfully,

JNO. R. & WM. PHIPPS.

—At the close of last week Prof. J. D. Render, teacher in the Commercial Department of Hartford College, tendered his resignation. He has returned to Butler county where he will enter the canvass as a candidate for Clerk of the Butler Circuit Court. During a stay of seven months with our people Mr. Render so endeared himself to them that they feel the keenest regret at losing him, and we are confident that he has the good will of every citizen of Hartford.

—For Rent.
Dwelling house in Hartford. Apply to C. M. PENDLETON.

—Hartford Water Mills.

—Mr. A. T. Nall has christened his popular saloon "The Office" and hereafter when a man invites you to the office don't think that he wants you to go to a musty room, but the most popular saloon in Hartford.

—Another melee occurred in Sherrod & Neafus barroom Saturday night. Mose Hudson tried to make another man drink and he refused, when Hudson drew his knife and struck at him. The man dodged and Hudson fell over him, turning the screen over and breaking a large pane of glass in the door.

—Thos. F. Johnson informs us, that a skull bone of a man was found in a cave near Wilsons mill, with a bullet hole in the left temple. It appears not to have been there for a great while, in fact most of the bones of a human body was found in the cave, the hogs had just torn them up from the debris in the cave.

—My nephew, Jake Small, will sell you goods cheaper than was ever bought in this town.

HENRY SMALL.

—We dropped into King's stable Monday, and we are free to say we never saw such a jam around a stable or anywhere else. Every stall and every available foot of ground about the building had a horse hitched on it. What does it all mean? That the people know King feeds well and takes proper care of their horses. A customer of King once a customer all the time.

House for Sale.

I have for sale the most desirable house in Hartford. A large, well finished and repaired frame house, situated in a beautiful location, convenient to town or the College, with good water, all necessary and suitable outbuildings, excellent garden and a variety of young fruit trees, vines and shrubs. Terms easy. Apply at once to H. P. TAYLOR.

Wanted.

Every one who wants a nice set of Gum Teeth on the best rubber plate for 10, or teeth extra cited for 50c, to go to Dr. C. C. Bedford. I have been practicing Dentistry for 18 years, 14 years in Owensboro, and have no hesitancy in warranting perfect satisfaction in every case. Office on Main street, next door to J. A. Head's drug store, Owensboro, Ky. 35-6m

Preventive of Malarial Disease.

Opinion of eminent Dr. H. R. Walton, of Annapolis, Md.: "Golden's Liquid Beef Tonic is a most excellent preparation. It is, par excellence, superior to cod-liver oil or anything I have ever used in wasted or impaired constitutions, and extremely beneficial as a preventive of malarial diseases." (Remember the name, GOLDEN'S—take no other.) Of druggists generally.

Extry Notice

—Taken up by P. R. Kelly, near the Hamilton Ford on South Panther creek in Ohio county, one pale-red and white steer, unmarked with crop and two splits in left ear. Appraised by me at $15.00 this 31st day of March, 1883. J. P. MILLER, J. P. O. C.

—A Life Doubly Assured.

A resident of Bangor, Maine, writing to C. N. Crittenton, New York, for a supply of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar, mentions incidentally that three months ago a New England life insurance company refused to grant him a policy on the ground that he was consumptive. "But," he adds, "thanks to the healing properties of that invaluable preparation, my lungs are now perfectly sound, and I yesterday passed a medical examination without an objection, and insured my life for $5,000." Of druggists generally.
